

Contents

Acknowledgements	xi
Preface	xv
1 The Canonisation of Ælfric ELAINE TREHARNE	1
2 Gradual Revelation as Narrative Strategy in Medieval Literature IAN KIRBY	14
3 Could Lydgate write in true metre after all? ROSAMUND ALLEN	23
4 'Who Knows Not Colin Clout?' Spenser and the Poets of the Mid-Twentieth Century WILLIAM BLISSETT	35
5 Liberalism or Apocalypse? John Milton and Andrew Marvell NICHOLAS VON MALTZAHN	44
6 Augustan American Literature: An Aesthetics of Extravagance PAUL GILES	59
7 English Bards and German Sages SIMON HAINES	72
8 Dramas of Regeneration: The function of children and childbirth in Jane Austen's novels BIRGITTA BERGLUND	82

9 Fictive Nation-Building on the Grand Scale: Contested Templates for the 'Great American Novel' LAWRENCE BUELL	90
10 Writing and Teaching: Victorian Education and Literature DINAH BIRCH	102
11 British Writers and Paris, 1840-1871: a research project in outline ELISABETH JAY	110
12 Bryher's Archive: Modernism and the Melancholy of Money SUSAN MCCABE	118
13 Magical Realism Revisited MICHAEL BELL	126
14 Necessary Lies: The expedient blurring of fact/fiction in creative writing DONALD ANDERSON	137
15 Selves for the Twenty-First Century JÜRGEN SCHLAEGER	150
16 Changelings in Janglish: Or, How Australian Is It? IHAB HASSAN	162
17 Notes on Literary Theory in an Age of Globalization: Or Blackbirds Skimming the Void IHAB HASSAN	175
18 The Future of English: The Future of the Lyrical Imagination HELEN VENDLER	185
19 The State of English Language Studies: A Linguistic Perspective ELIZABETH CLOSS TRAUOGOTT	199
20 On Rivalry in the History of English MINOJI AKIMOTO	226

21 Morphosyntactic Parallels in Englishes Around the World ANDREA SAND	248
22 'Subjective Construal' and 'Objective Construal' in Grammar and Lexicon: Typological Considerations YOSHIHIKO IKEGAMI	267
23 Crimes and misdemeanours: legal terminology versus lexical semantics and the role of pragmatics DIETER KASTOVSKY and BARBARA KRYK-KASTOVSKY	277
24 Cognitive Verbs in Discourse: Subjectivity Meets Intersubjectivity ANITA FETZER	292
25 Objectification: a new theory of metaphor ALEKSANDER SZWEDEK	308
26 Textual production and dissemination in book history: A case study of cross-media production between the wars ALEXIS WEEDON	318
Notes on Contributors	332
Index	337